

WORD LIST

artery

slagader

The arteries transport blood around your body.

backbone

ruggengraat

She went to the doctor to have her backbone checked.

bellybutton

navel

My twin brothers keep showing their bellybuttons.

bladder

blaas

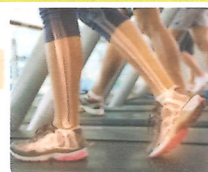

You have to go to the toilet when you have a full bladder.

bones

botten

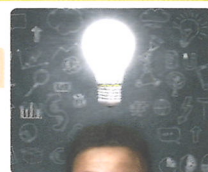

Bones make your body firm and they protect your organs.

brain

hersenen

Think hard, use your brain.

chest

ribbenkast, borstkas

The doctor puts a stethoscope on his chest.

digestion

spijsvertering

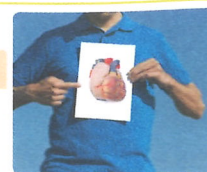

Junk food can cause problems with digestion.

heart

hart

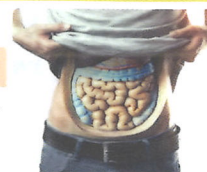

Your heart pumps the blood around the body.

intestines

darmen

Your food is processed in your intestines.

jaw

kaak

When you yawn, you open your jaws.

joint

gewricht

Your knee is the largest joint in your body.

kidney

nier

Your kidneys filter your blood. They look a bit like beans.

limb

ledemaat

Your arms and legs are your limbs.

liver

lever

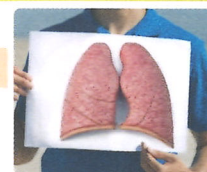

Your liver cleans your blood.

lung

long

You need your lungs to breathe.

muscles

spieren

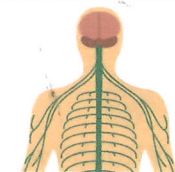

Training your muscles makes you stronger.

nerves

zenuwen

Nerves are cells that send messages around the body.

nervous system

zenuwstelsel

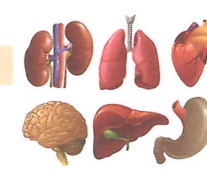

Your nervous system tells your brain to react when it hurts.

organ

orgaan

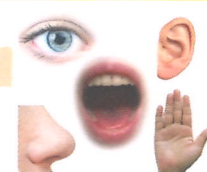

Every organ has its own function.

senses

zintuigen

I tried to find my way in the dark using my senses.

skeleton

skelet, geraamte

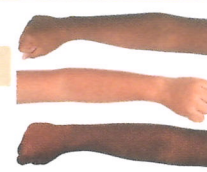

The doctor has a skeleton in his room.

skin

huid

Everybody has a different skin colour.

skull

schedel

Pirates have a skull and two bones as their symbol.

stomach

maag

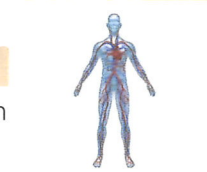

Her stomach felt full because she had eaten too much.

vein

ader

Your veins transport blood from your body back to your heart.

x-ray

röntgenfoto

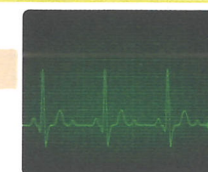

The x-ray showed that my finger was broken.

to beat

slaan, verslaan

Your heart beats about 75 times a minute.

to breathe

ademen

It is so cold, you can see steam as I breathe out.

to squeeze

knijpen

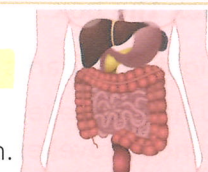

He is squeezing the ball really hard.

digestive system

spijsvertering

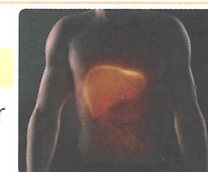

All the food you eat passes through your digestive system.

to store

opslaan

Your liver stores vitamins. Your body uses the vitamins later.

to swallow

slikken

When you swallow, you push your food down.

